

TOOL SHEET

WIX

WIX allows you to create a website in a simple way, without having any knowledge of web development.

Description

You would like to create a website to promote your business? Here is a simple tool that allows you to create a website without having any particular knowledge in web development.

Use

Start by creating an account.

Wix then asks you several questions to guide you towards the options that best correspond to your expectations.

Then it offers you 2 choices:

- either create a site automatically with an artificial intelligence (this option is recommended for a really simple site),
- or create yourself a site from a Wix template.

You can then customize the look and content by modifying the different elements, adding pages and modifying the menu.
